

Ken MARTINUSSEN

Organization : DAC | Danish Architecture Centre

Date of birth : December 29th, 1960

Education : Architect from international schools and with diploma from the Architect school at the Academy of Arts in Denmark.

C.V. : Kent Martinussen has been teaching and giving lectures at Danish and foreign universities as well as carrying out architectural research. He has had his own studio with numerous exhibitions of his own projects in Asia, Arabia, Europe and United States.

Kent Martinussen has several professional and academic positions of trust. He has been a member of the board at the Danish Architectural Association, a member of the committee of the Academy of Architecture, chairman of the board of directors in the Danish Institute of Architecture and sensor at the Academy of Arts. He was chosen as member of the jury at the 9th International Architecture Biennale in Venice, the world's greatest architectural exhibition.

Profile : Kent Martinussen's approach to the profession of architecture is primarily forward-looking and orientated towards development and innovation, while he constantly seeks to create new ways for production of quality-architecture, within the given global business frame.

Current work at DAC : CEO at DAC | Danish Architecture Centre. Kent Martinussen began as director of Danish Architecture Centre in 2001 and became managing director (CEO) in January 2005. DAC develops exhibitions and concepts to create public debates and feature both Danish and International architecture to help develop Danish architecture and construction. All exhibitions are produced for the general public and the business industry. DAC works internationally to develop and re-brand Danish Architecture. DAC is subsidised by the Danish Government, Funds, the Danish Business Industry, the Danish Construction Industry and the Architecture sector. DAC is located in the centre of Copenhagen.